

MEET Damaris Patterson Price

Damaris Patterson Price is the principal of Working River Leadership Consulting –a northeast Ohio training boutique that designs and delivers B2B and B2C coaching, consulting, and learning products to grow the Leadership, Career, and Managerial competencies of an organization's most powerful asset: its leaders.

A seasoned Talent Development professional, Damaris Patterson Price has provided executive coaching and other development services to leaders in 6 countries: US, Canada, UK, India, Spain, and Germany. Her work is the product of nearly 30 years in the people-development business focused on the growth of leadership talent for next-level positions.

Informed by her own experiences coaching and managing leaders, her solutions have been effectively applied by a broad and diverse spectrum of people within Corporate Retail firms, Chemical companies, Financial Services, Marketing & PR firms, Higher Education and Independent School administration, Insurance providers, Tech companies, Non-Profits, Specialty Food Manufacturers, Foundations, Professional Associations, Large Hospital Systems, and Law Firms.

"Damaris is amazing. I think it's the positive energy she gives off. By the time our coaching sessions are over, I feel like I can do anything!" -Jennifer S. Senior Analyst, IT

RESULTS

From nuanced individual development to a strategic talent transformation, Damaris' engagements consistently result in:

- Managers reengineering how they drive increases in performance,
- Employees moving on strategic directives with competence and enthusiasm,
- Enterprise teams effectively managing people and process through periods of change and transition,
- Promoted leaders walking confidently in their new next-level positions, and
- Leadership teams unifying around a mission, message, and methodology that advances business imperatives.

WORKING RIVER
LEADERSHIP CONSULTING

PORTFOLIO

Leadership Development
Executive Coaching & Mastermind Groups
Management Training & Leader-Craft
Best Practice Consultation
Professional Development &
Career Management
Live & Online Workshops
Learning Programs & Events
Keynotes

Damaris Patterson Price holds a Master's degree in Organizational Psychology. While also serving as an adjunct professor at Cleveland State University, Damaris is a certified Organizational Development and Diversity practitioner, as well as a Board-Certified Executive Coach—with additional credentials from the Gestalt Institute of Cleveland and Forbes Coaches Council. Damaris and her children, a set of twins, live in northeast Ohio.

To inquire about Working River consulting, workshops, or coaching, contact Damaris Patterson Price at Damaris@workingriver.com or workingriver.com. 2020.01.13 V9

Damaris is the author of Unlock Your Leadership: Secrets & Straight Answers on Standing Out, Moving Up, and Getting Ahead as the Leader You Really Are, which Kirkus Reviews described as a "road map" and "a practical, in-depth guide and the closest thing to having a personal career coach". It is an essential strategic playbook for early or mid-career professionals who want to attract and accelerate leadership opportunities at work.

"When a colleague from a competing firm heard about the great leadership development my managing associates were getting, I was reluctant to give him her information. Of course, she deserved the referral. Damaris does outstanding work, but I didn't want to give away our edge." -Chuck T. Partner, Law

